

Facts for
LITTLE READERS

Pollinators

- Plants need pollen to grow.
- Pollinators help plants grow by spreading pollen.
- Food we eat depends on bees, butterflies, and other insects called pollinators.

- Bees and butterflies drink nectar and eat pollen by using their long tongues.
- Butterflies and honey bees each have four wings.

